MERRY CHRISTMAS!

“God’s sign is simplicity. God’s sign is the baby. God’s sign is that He makes Himself small for us. This is how He reigns. He does not come with power and outward splendor. He comes as a baby – defenseless and in need of our help ... He asks for our love: so He makes Himself a child.”

Pope Benedict XVI

ANNUAL DUES RENEWAL: GIVE A GIFT OF LIFE

Fill out your Christmas gift list with a gift of life -- a gift that will be of incalculable value to the receiver, the giver, and the unborn babies.

NKRTL’s annual dues of $20.00 are now payable. As you no doubt understand, these modest dues are not sufficient to cover the expenses of NKRTL’s operation, including supplies, and the large expense of our newsletter – printing, paper, and now increased postage. NKRTL would not be able to continue if it were not for the fact that a number of our members make generous annual donations.

ISSUE 1 IN OHIO LOSERS: UNBORN CHILDREN

It is with great sadness that most of our neighbors to the north enshrined in their state constitution, by 57% to 43%, an amendment more extreme than the 1973 Supreme Court decision in Roe v. Wade. Ohio's State Constitution now permits abortions up to the time of birth, and hinders the rights of parents over making the decision of their minor daughter.

WHY DID THEY NOT VOTE FOR ME?

Who are the real losers in the passage of this amendment? Pro-lifers? Those who hold the Judeo-Christian principle of the sanctity of all innocent human life? The real losers are thousands of unborn children whose lives will be destroyed by the painful death of being aborted.

The real losers are the mothers who will now live with their decision to have the life growing within them destroyed for reasons which seem so compelling at the time, but which will fade in time and be replaced by a bitter regret that their child, a gift from God, is not alive.

The Real Loser:
A Woman who must live with the memory that she was once with child, to whose death she consented.

(Source for this graphic: Forbidden Grief: The Unspoken Pain of Abortion, by Theresa Burke, Ph.D.)

The real losers are the fathers, grandparents, and siblings of aborted children, many of whom, as adults, were complacent with the decision to destroy the child, and who failed to offer the mother in need encouragement, love, and support she really desired.

The real loser is the American culture, which again has rejected the culture of life and has embraced a culture of relativism, one encouraging the killing of others to overcome our perceived challenges to our economic and material well-being.

"A Losing Issue"?

Many who claim to be "pro-life" now claim, as echoed by the pro-abortion mainline news media, that the issue of abortion will be a losing issue for Republicans. Whether this is correct or not is immaterial. Pro-lifers must and will continue the struggle to end abortion in America. Pro-lifers don't "win an election" when they elect a Republican who is wishy washy as to the plight of unborn children.

Pro-lifers cannot abandon or compromise any child's right to life. We must continue, in the words of our Lord, Jesus Christ, "bear witness to the truth." (John 18:37)

We must continue to change the hearts and minds of our fellow citizens as we have for over 50 years, by founding educational organizations and numerous crisis pregnancy centers, to reach out to the hearts and souls of mothers in need.

Does this mean that we should end our political efforts to elect those to public office who will enact legislation protecting the unborn child and his or her mother? One of the key opportunities to change the hearts and minds of others is to change the law. The law is a teacher, and sadly for the last 50 years, the law has encouraged American society to give little value to the life of the unborn child.

Regardless of the outcome of any election, we need to continue to educate hearts and minds, and we must continue to enact legislation to save the lives of real children.

We Recommit Ourselves

"As we pray for the conversion of minds and hearts to the Gospel of Life, we recommit ourselves to defending children in the womb and supporting women in need," states the Ohio Catholic Conference of Bishops. "The Catholic Church and faithful will never grow weary in our mission to help women and families flourish through ministries such as Walking with Moms in Need and other local organizations that provide material and spiritual support and through advocacy with policymakers."

"Your sacrifices prove that the Church will never abandon her mission to support human life. We will persevere in this mission until every preborn child is protected, every pregnant woman is supported, and every human life receives respect, dignity, and justice."

In response to the passage of Issue 1, Archbishop Dennis M. Schnurr of Cincinnati issued the following statement:

"The people of Ohio missed on this important opportunity to demonstrate that the health and safety of women, the fundamental rights of parents, and the lives of preborn children deserve protection.

Despite this outcome, we are grateful for all of you who prayed, educated yourselves and others, and voted NO on this horrific amendment.

“The passage of issue 1 shows that there remains a desperate need for conversion of hearts and minds to a culture of life in our country...We must not become disheartened by setbacks. As Catholics, we are called to trust always in God’s providence and be courageous in our defense of the health and safety of women, the inviolability of the family, and the inestimable value of each human life.”

Northern Kentucky Right to Life is grateful for all its generous contributors, which enabled it to donate to Cincinnati Right to Life the sum of $5,000.00, toward the effort to run pro-life ads explaining the horrendous consequences that the passage of Amendment 1 would bring about.

EVERY STATE PERMITS TREATMENT FOR MISCARRIAGES AND ECTOPIC PREGNANCIES

Over half of the states have strong gestational limits on when an abortion can be performed. In order to promote their goal of abortion on demand, many pro-abortion advocates have claimed that in cases of miscarriage or ectopic pregnancy, the woman would not be able to receive necessary medical care. This is simply a lie.

“While some laws contain definitions and exceptions that more explicitly speak to certain situations, each law reviewed does not prevent mothers from receiving the medical care necessary. A plain reading of any of these statutes easily refutes the false and dangerous misinformation being spread by pro-abortion activists. Further, none of the laws reviewed prohibit a medical professional from acting as necessary when facing a life-threatening medical emergency; therefore, under these laws medical professionals can exercise reasonable medical judgment and as outlined by the ACOG guidance, are not required to delay necessary care and treatment to a mother, concludes Mary E. Harned, J.D. and Ingrid Skop, M.D., FACOG.

“Because the terminology can be confusing, it is important to be aware that a “spontaneous abortion” describes a ‘miscarriage,’ a pregnancy where the fetus dies naturally. An ‘induced abortion’ is sometimes shortened to the layman’s term ‘abortion,’ indicating that the pregnancy was intentionally ended in order to cause the death of the fetus.

“Additionally, ‘termination of pregnancy’ and ‘medically indicated separation’ indicate that the mother will be separated from her fetus but does not indicate the method used. This can be done by labor induction or c-section, potentially resulting in a live baby if he has reached an appropriate gestational age. ‘Induced abortion’ indicates that a dead baby will be the outcome of the intervention (such as after a dilation and evacuation ‘dismemberment’ abortion).

While the law allows induced abortion if needed in order to protect the mother’s life, compassionate care and respect for fetal life would dictate that the fetus should be delivered intact and alive if possible.”

A Prayer for the Unborn

Heavenly Father, in Your love for us, protect against the wickedness of the devil, those helpless little ones to whom You have given the gift of life.

Touch with pity the hearts of those women pregnant in our world today.
Help them to see that the child they carry is made in Your image, as well as theirs, made for eternal life.

Dispel their fear of selfishness and give them true womanly hearts to love their babies and give them birth and all the needed care that a mother can give.

We ask this through Jesus Christ, Your Son,
Our Lord Who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God, forever and ever.

Amen.

SAFE HAVEN BABY BOXES

Thanks to the very generous donations from pro-lifers throughout Northern Kentucky, and thanks to the dedicated efforts of Lisa Klee, a local volunteer advocate for Safe Haven Baby Boxes, two Baby Boxes were installed on November 9, 2023, at:

Carrollton Fire Department
750 Clay Street, Carrollton, KY

Pendleton County Ambulance Service
332 Kentucky 330, Falmouth, KY

A Baby Box is a safety device/box provided under the state's Safe Haven Law that legally permits a mother in crisis to safely, securely, and anonymously surrender the custody of the newborn child. A Baby Box is installed in an exterior wall of a designated fire station, hospital, or EMS building. It has an interior door with multiple alarms which allows a medical staff member to secure the surrendered newborn from inside the designated building.

Although the organization's primary goal is to raise awareness of the Safe Haven Laws enacted throughout the country, women in crisis can call the national 24-hour hotline (1-866-99BABY1) and receive counseling and assistance free of charge.

The first Baby Box was installed at the Fort Mitchell Fire Department at 2355 Dixie Highway, Fort Mitchell, Kentucky, and the second Baby Box was installed at the Hebron Fire Department at 3120 North Bend Road, Hebron, Kentucky. A Baby Box is also located at the Delhi Fire Department, 697 Neeb Road, Cincinnati, Ohio.

To support a ministry dedicated to assisting women in need, contact Lisa Klee (Tel. 859-466-1192, Email list@presleyhouse.com), or send your donation to Safe Haven Baby Boxes, P.O. Box 185, Woodburn, IN 46797, and note that you are interested in having a box located in the Northern Kentucky area, or specify a particular city in which you would like one located.

Seven babies have been safely surrendered by a Baby Box in Indiana so far in 2023. "We are so grateful to this birth mother for bravely and sacrificially choosing what she believes to be best for her baby. We are honored that she trusted our program to protect her and her infant," Safe Haven Baby Box organization founder Monica Kelsey said in a statement. "There is a real beauty in seeing the families made with these babies, adopted by amazing families. It is a real chance to rewrite tragedy into a blessing," Kelsey said.

NOT REGRETTING GIVING BIRTH

"Enshrining Amendment 1 into the Ohio constitution is a course of action so dangerous it would legalize abortion through all nine months of pregnancy, well after unborn can feel pain, and even deny loving parents the right to consult with their own daughters about their abortion decisions. It also overlooks the vast network of pregnancy resource centers (PRCs) that already exist for the purpose of supporting the physical and mental health of expecting mothers.

"In my years in practice, I have never met a woman who has expressed regret over giving birth to her baby, but I have met plenty who shared their regret for having abortions. Unfortunately, these women are frequently pressured into abortions, in part due to the commonly held misperception that they could never financially support themselves and a new child or balance the demands of parenting. In fact, I've treated many women who say that they began experiencing anxiety and depression at the time of their abortion," states Dr. Vivina Napier, a board-certified OB/GYN who practices in Dayton, Ohio.

"The statistics reveal that abortion carries with it a wide range of detrimental, long-term physical and mental-health consequences. Women face higher rates of depression, anxiety, substance abuse, and suicidal behavior after having an abortion."

50th Annual Celebration for Life

Northern Kentucky Right to Life
Proudly Presented

Kristan Hawkins President of Students for Life of America

Kristan Hawkins, a Christian, wife, mother, author, speaker, and human rights advocate, serves as resident of Students for Life of America, which serves more than 1,400 Students for Life chapters in all 50 states. Under her leadership, Students for Life exists to abolish abortion by transforming our culture by recruiting, training, and mobilizing the pro-life generation.

Celebration for Life

This year's Celebration for Life was held on Sunday, October 1, 2023, at Receptions in Erlanger, Kentucky.

Call to Assembly

Music was provided by Tony Beyer, a remarkable Northern Kentucky musician, who has shared his gift at the Celebration for over 15 years.

Invocation

Bill McGrane with Heritage Fellowship, Florence, Kentucky, offered the Invocation:

"Dearest Heavenly Father, we just thank You for this time to come together in unity for Your children, children throughout our community, our state, our country, and our world. Lord, bless each person who is here with the conviction to move from idea into action to inspire new people to be a part of this commitment to life. We ask these things in Your name, Lord Jesus. Amen."

Pledge of Allegiance

Boone County Commissioner Chet Hands (R), who also serves as Chairman of the Boone County Republican Party, led us in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Sen. Robby Mills

Due to last-minute votes on funding the government, our pro-life U.S. Rep. Thomas Massie (R) was unable to travel back from Washington, D.C.

in time for the Celebration for Life. Sen. Robby Mills (R), from Henderson, Kentucky, accepted our invitation to address the attendees. Sen. Mills, Co-Chairman of the Pro-Life Caucus, author of the "Save Women's Sports" act, and a strong opponent of life-alternating puberty blockers and irreversible gender surgeries, and the Lieutenant Governor Republican candidate running with Daniel Cameron remarked:

"It is certainly impressive to be in front of a crowd of so many pro-lifers that aren't shy of speaking about the issue, that don't mind knocking on doors and putting yard signs up and speaking to their family and friends. This is indeed an honor. When I think about a crowd this size, I know you guys are building a culture of life. Thank you so much for building that culture of life in Northern Kentucky."

State Rep. Savannah Maddox

"It is an honor to be with you this afternoon. I look forward to this event every year," expressed State Rep. Savannah Maddox (R), an unwavering, stout-hearted state representative from Grant County, Kentucky.

"With the looming threat of a government shutdown, Congressman Thomas Massie expresses his regret about being unable to attend this year's event. He has always fought to make sure that taxpayer dollars were never used for any type of program that would go to the funding of abortion or anything of that nature. I greatly appreciate his unwillingness to yield on principle because it is more important now than ever that our elected officials stand firm, stand firmly pro-life, unapologetically pro-life, folks. There is no room for compromise. We can never compromise away the life of any unborn child.

"There is no room for compromise. We can never compromise away the life of any unborn child."

~State Rep. Savannah Maddox

"We believe that all life is made in God's image and is worthy of protecting. It's just that simple. I am grateful for men and women like Congressman Thomas Massie and all of the folks with Northern Kentucky Right to Life and Kentucky Right to Life who have fought for so many years to protect and defend, to speak up for those who cannot yet speak for themselves."

In the Words of Our Guest Speaker Kristan Hawkins

Is Kentucky Abortion Free?

“Tens of thousands of babies will be born to mothers and families who light up their parents’ lives and who are destined, each one of them, to transform our world. They’re going to be born here in Kentucky. They’re going to be born across the nation. We no longer live in a country where abortion is the uncontested norm, endorsed by the highest court of our land. Our daughters, our sons, will grow up in a state where abortion is unavailable. They’re going to enter college, meet new friends, and then be astounded to find out that some regressive states, like Illinois, New York, and California, kill babies, and where mothers can pay someone to end the life of their child at any time up to the time of birth, for any reason.

“I would love to say Kentucky is an abortion-free state, but is not because a woman with a child growing within can go to Cincinnati with the mega Planned Parenthood and where millions of dollars the abortion lobby is spending in Ohio. Plus, a woman faced with an unwanted pregnancy can also order dangerous chemical abortion pills to be delivered to her doorstep.”

Compromising Someone Else's Life

“Kentucky has the best pro-life law that it could have, one where you don’t have an exception for rape or incest. However, some of your legislators have expressed the intent to reinsert in the law exceptions for pregnancies that occurred due to violent acts of rape or incest.

“I don’t see why you would go back and intentionally amend your own pro-life law to allow some abortions. How does that look to an outside person? These people who claim to be pro-life say that they are against abortion, then pass a law preventing abortion, but now are wanting to go back and allow some killing of unborn children. At Students for Life, we introduce legislation that does not have exceptions, and we fight like heck to make sure those exceptions don’t become part of the legislation.

“When you’re having conversations with young adults, exceptions for rape or incest do not make sense. It weakens our ideological position that abortion is the intentional taking of an innocent life.

“I understand your concerns. I can’t imagine a worse crime committed upon my daughter, myself, my sister, my mother. It is very clear at the moment of conception, the moment you became you, you were a unique, unrepeatable human being. How can we start saying that certain human beings do not have a right to life because of the violence their father committed?

If my father would go out and commit rape tonight, there would be no way anyone could say, ‘Let’s go kill Kristan and kill her sister.’ We would say that our father should be locked away, but we wouldn’t say that I should be killed. So why do we say that because the child is in womb, its life should be taken from him or her because of the terrible act of their father?”

Students for Life

“Students for Life serve 1400 active students for life groups, many are here today, and we have trained 170,000 young people. We found unique ways to change 10% of the young people we see and meet on college campuses and change 20% of the minds of those young people we reach online. Every single time there is a debate or discussion about abortion in a state house, the pro-life generation is there.

“We have been there changing minds and challenging the culture. Our regional coordinator, Jamie, is on campuses every day now registering voters and changing minds. Last semester at an Ohio college, there was almost a mob that attacked her, and the campus security had to protect her. She changed 38 minds about Issue One, and registered more than 50 voters in two hours. That's where we have to be. We have to be on those campuses not only educating young people on abortion, but also telling young women that no one should have to choose between her education and the life of her child. We need to show that the pro-life movement supports women and their families.

"A young woman [Morgan] came up to me, and I thought she was a client of the pregnancy center for which I was speaking, but she wasn't. She had a little baby with her, a cute little boy, whose name was Hudson. She said, 'I came here to meet you. I want you to meet Hudson. I didn't have an abortion because a Students for Life group on my campus who put up a flyer and had your quote on it. I looked you up, and I watched some of the videos online, and he is here now.'

"I want you to meet Hudson. I didn't have an abortion because a Students for Life group on my campus who put up a flyer and had your quote on it."

"That's why we do what we do on campuses and talk online to young people, so the Morgans know that they are not alone. She is in nursing school. She is totally awesome. She is getting her master's degree all on her own. In our churches and in our communities, we also have to be there. We have to tell these young women about the violence of abortion. We have to do more work to stop the dangerous proliferation of chemical abortion pills that result in injury, infertility, and death of women."

Is It a State's Right Issue?

"Planned Parenthood about 10 years ago put out a memo telling its people to stop saying the word 'pro-choice.' Why? After doing some polling, it showed that the word 'abortion' and the word 'pro-choice' are linked. When you hear 'pro-choice,' when you hear 'abortion,' the top three things people hear, even if they're a Democrat, even if they're pro-choice, are: death; killing; sadness.

"The National Abortion League Pro-Choice America last week changed their name to Reproductive Freedom for All. They're not saying the word 'pro-choice' anymore; they're saying 'freedom.' Don't be afraid to say the word 'abortion' and make your legislators and your pastors say the word, too. It doesn't make you the most popular at the dinner party, but we have to say it because it's happening.

"We have to work to build a majority of representatives who agree that your state line should not determine your personhood. A child born in California is just as valuable as a child born in Kentucky. Abortion is not just a state issue. If we ever have any hope of achieving our vision of seeing abortion unavailable and unthinkable throughout America, it cannot be treated as a state issue. Our federal government, not just our state governments, is supposed to protect our life, our liberty, and our pursuit of happiness. And this is always meant to go back to the federal government."

March for Life

"I think this is why it's so important that we continue to get our young people to the annual March for Life in Washington, D.C. I'm glad you all are having one in Frankfort [scheduled for Tuesday, January 23, 2024, at the capital]. But please don't let the state rally be the bishop's or the church's excuse not to send young people to Washington, D.C. We are making a generational mistake by not bringing our young people to Washington, D.C. Why do you have to go through all that trouble to Washington, D.C., to freeze and be cold for a day? Because a seed will be planted in their hearts.

“More than 80% of the team members of Students for Life say that they work in the pro-life movement because something touched them at the March for Life. There are literally hundreds of thousands of people across America who, just like me, are willing to stand up and do the hard thing. The March for Life gave me the motivation to continue forward when it got really, really hard, and to speak about the violence of abortion and the extremism of those who advocate for it.

“In the southern campaign of the Continental Army, Nathaniel Green, who served with General George Washington from the very beginning, was now the general of the American forces at the Battle at Guilford Courthouse. The Continentals failed. The British won. General Green is quoted with saying their strategy to win the American Revolution was this: ‘We fight, we get beat, we rise, and we fight again.’ That’s how we got to Yorktown.”

We Fight, We Get Beat,
We Rise, We Fight Again

“Do you know the challenges we face right now in the coming months? They will be physical, they will be political, and they will be spiritual. In our city streets and on our campuses, the violence that so many have supported behind the closed doors of Planned Parenthood is just now being committed openly, and justified by those in power.

“We have men and women who are hurting from past decisions, who have hidden from their own decisions. Now that abortion’s being talking about everywhere we go, they’re forced to finally reckon with a choice, and they need our help. We need to lend them our ear and direct them to places offering support.

Our daughters and our granddaughters can now order chemical abortion pills shipped from overseas, that could very well result in injury, lifetime infertility, and death. A woman who aborted her child by a chemical abortion pill, every morning in her bathroom, has to return to the scene where her child died.

“So the question for you all is this: Will we allow ourselves to grow weary on this journey and convince others that getting to our destination is impossible?

“Or, will we become an America where every woman knows that abortion, that paying someone to end the life of one’s child, isn’t the only choice? Where very woman sees through the lies of the self-serving ‘my body, my choice’ ideology? Where every man knows that he can step up and be the hero of his family? Where every clergyman knows the importance of our churches’ role in this fight? Where every elected official has the courage to stand up and speak up for every child, no matter what happened the night they were conceived? Where every one of us that are gathered here today knows that he or she is called to stand up for the small, the weak, and the marginalized?

“You are willing to do this by believing, by being innovative, by being undeterred, and by being like General Green and his Continental forces. We rise, we get beat, we rise again, and we get beat until eventually we win.”

The John J. Bauer Award

John J. Bauer was a founding member of NKRTL, who died in 1976 doing volunteer work for children with special needs. As described by the principal of the school served by John: “What other people said was impossible to do with children who had mental disabilities, he did.”

The John J. Bauer Award was given to Kristan Hawkins, in grateful recognition for her tremendous work that she has accomplished for human life, especially on our college campuses, where she leads others to healing and others to stand up for life.

The second recipient of the John J. Bauer Award was given to Lisa Klee, who is a local volunteer advocate for Safe Haven Boxes. As reported in our last couple of newsletters, and as has been reported in the secular media, those lifesaving boxes are located in various places, especially in firehouses, enabling a mother in crisis to safely, securely, and anonymously place the custody of her newborn child, knowing that her baby will receive the care he or she needs and someday be adopted by a loving couple.

The John G. Kenkel, Sr., Award

John G. Kenkel, Sr., was a longtime supporter of NKRTL, and he also served as a volunteer at our office that was once in Covington. Jack Kenkel, John's son, generously funded an award in his father's name that would be given to a school organization, an individual student, or a group of students on either side of the river, to recognize their work in the pro-life movement. The first John G. Kenkel, Sr., Award of $1,000 was given to Bearcat Students for Life, a flourishing group at the University of Cincinnati, who have been trained to defend life at all stages, and pray for the unborn. They have attended and promoted the March for Life, invited many speakers onto campus, including Kristan Hawkins, and were recently honored as "Group of the Year" by Students for Life of America. Giving witness to the sanctity of all innocent human life is a challenge on all campuses, and we honor these students for being courageous to do so.

The second John G. Kenkel, Sr., Award of $1,000 was given to Amber Konerman, a senior communications major at Thomas More University, who has served for the last two years as president of the Saints for Life. As part of completing an internship with New Hope Pregnancy Center, she established their Tic Tok account. Saints for Life, under her leadership, has organized drives for a local pregnancy care center, and has invited many speakers to its business meetings. As stated by the staff members at the university, "Amber's pro-life leadership demonstrates a calm, clear-headed, and wise approach which remains strong and humble."

Amber Konerman and Kristan Hawkins

Benediction

Fr. Jon-Paul Bevak, pastor of Old St. Mary's Church and of Sacred Heart Church in Cincinnati, concluded the Celebration by offering the Benediction.

"In 1570, the Turkish army was threatening the borders of Europe, and if successful would have changed Western civilization as we know it. The Christians were far outnumbered. Pope Pius V called upon Christians throughout Europe to pray, and by a miracle they were able to be successful.

"So we certainly have to make sure that we are praying, that we are making sure that we are doing everything we can to promote the sanctity of all innocent human life.

"Heavenly Father, we ask You for Your blessing upon Northern Kentucky Right to Life. We ask You to certainly give them the strength to carry on the battle that we certainly face and the promotion of human dignity because we know that all are created in Your image and likeness. May we work through our example and through our prayer and through our conversations to all to see the gift that You have given us in life. We ask You to bless this organization and the work they do for You."

Purchase a DVD or CD

A DVD or CD of the Celebration for Life is available for $5.00 each thanks to Stan Barczak. Send your request to Stan Barczak, 13037 Hutton Drive, Walton, KY 41094, along with a check made payable to Northern Kentucky Right to Life. This is an opportunity to spread the pro-life message and educate others.

UNBORN CHILDREN NEED YOUR NAME

NORTHERN KENTUCKY RIGHT TO LIFE'S ANNUAL NEWSPAPER AD

PRO-LIFE NEWSPAPER AD
NEEDS YOUR NAME!

Do it for me.

Although only some are able to go to Washington, D.C., for the magnificent March for Life in January, we all can make a public statement against abortion by placing our names in the NKRTL newspaper ad, on this 51st anniversary of the infamous Supreme Court decision legalizing the killing of unborn children.

This ad will urge the passage of a Human Life Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, an amendment which will declare that all children, from the moment of fertilization, are "persons," entitled to the same protection against murder as the rest of us.

Send a list of your names and your donation of a small sum of $3.00 for each name or $10.00 donation for a family. (For families who would like to list the names of their children, but may be prohibited at the $3.00 per name, we suggest simply a $10.00 donation for the entire family). In order to cover the cost of the ad, those who are able to do so are encouraged to make a larger donation.

Deadline: January 10

In memory of the 66 million American babies who have been destroyed in the last 50 years, please participate in the authentic, uncompromising March for Life newspaper ad. Beat the deadline: January 10, 2024. Please send your list of names and check payable to Northern Kentucky Right to Life, and mail to P.O. Box 1202, Covington, Kentucky, 41012.
